

BOYJAZZ

Boyjazz launches rock and roll into the distant future with huge riffs and howling vocals propelled by unstoppable beats.

Begun as a studio collaboration between Sexmouth (Adam Hobbs) and Supertouch (Aaron Levin) in 2002, Boyjazz is rapidly making a name for themselves on the live circuit with their full band featuring Eric "Stiff Digits" Murray on Lead Guitar, "Masculine" Dan Brubaker on Rhythm Guitar, and Alex "Clay Hunt" Pauley on Bass.

After a year of stirring the cauldron and careful incantation, Boyjazz released their debut album "In The City Tonight" on Frenetic Records in 2004 to rave reviews.

Today, Boyjazz maintains a heavy gigging schedule while completing material for their second album tentatively entitled "Unlimited Nights and Weekends". This record will feature new material with the full live band as well as the production talents of the legendary Tim Green (Nation of Ulysses/The Fucking Champs).

Band Highlights:

- ‘Lookin For You’ (track 2) featured in the video game Dance Dance Revolution Ultra Mix 2 by Konami Games released November 2004
- Tracks featured in recent episodes of MTV’s Road Rules Xtreme
- Tracks featured in Urban Outfitters (75K) and Tremor Crew (100K) samplers
- Past tours have brought Boyjazz to venues across the U.S. from The Knitting Factory in L.A. to Don Hill’s in New York. Tourmates have included The Lovemakers (Interscope), The Star Spangles (Capitol), Need New Body, Arlo (Sub Pop), VHS or Beta (Astralwerks), (Melissa) Auf Der Maur (Capitol, ex-Smashing Pumpkins) and a slew of other amazing artists.

“All about dealing out the short, sweet, swift ass-kicking your rock needs require. F’n recommended”
– Aquarius Records, SF

“With anthemic songs such as ‘Potfinger’ and ‘Stank on the Halo’, Boyjazz play something like modern indie hard rock, minus the lame bits and plus a sense of humor” – SF Bay Guardian

“Cock rock for the indie kids” – Insound
